

THE STAR'S DAILY PICTORIAL PAGE

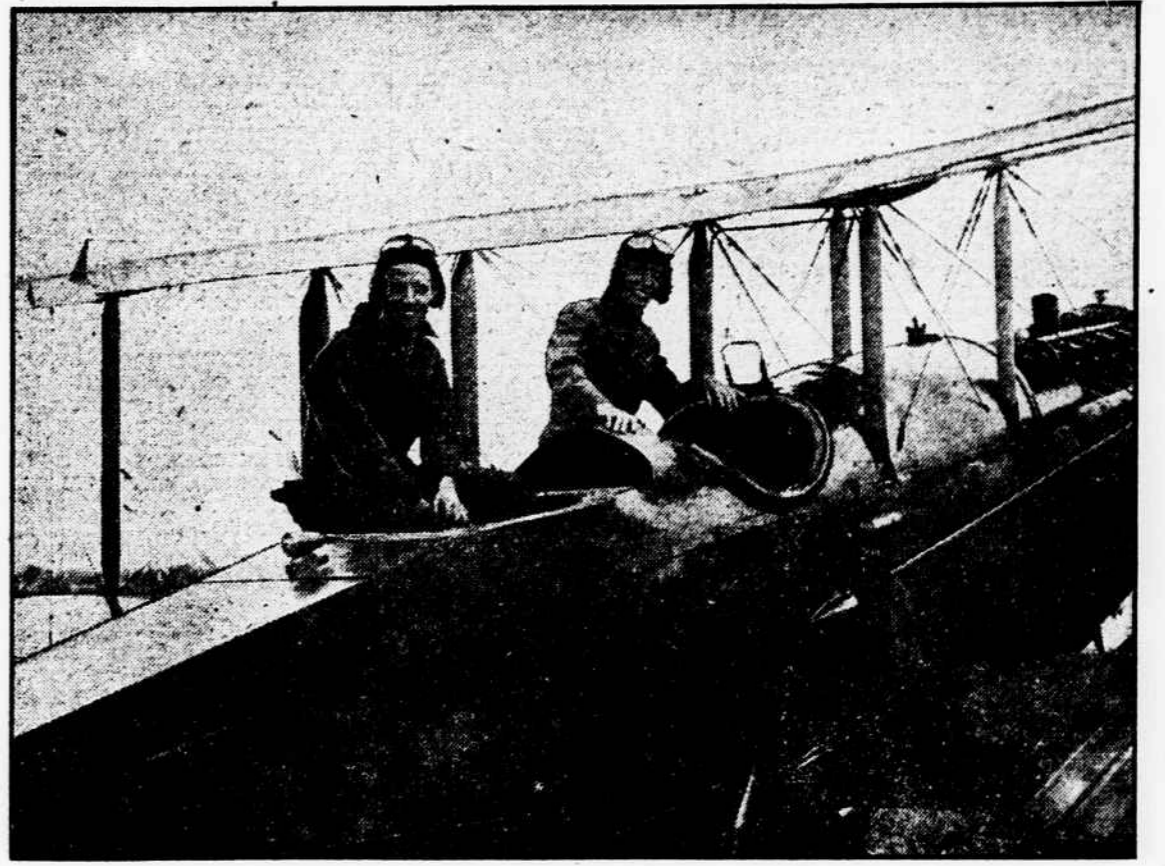

THE EVENING STAR, WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1922.

Memorial of friendship of Porto Rico to the United States presented to President Harding at the White House yesterday. Left to right: Felix C. Davila, resident commissioner; M. B. Couch, President Harding, and Representative H. M. Towner of Iowa. National Photo.

Society girls of Santa Rosa, Calif., save the million-dollar crop of hops. Two thousand pickers failed to show up after they had been employed, and the crop would have rotted in the fields if practically the whole city had not turned out. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Lieut. Paul C. Wilkins, Army air service (right), with Sergt. Leo Hukill, mechanic, who flew a DH biplane from Bolling Field to San Francisco, Calif., in 28 hours and 5 minutes' actual flying time. They made the return trip in 26½ hours' actual flying time. Official Air Service Photo.

The sacred cod travels from Boston to Atlantic City, guarding delegation to national convention of Military Order of the World War. The emblem of Massachusetts always draws a crowd. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Vicomtesse Edgar de Bresson, a niece of Chauncey Depew, visiting in America for the first time in twenty-five years. She will return to her home in Nice before winter opens. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

This pretty fellow is the latest addition to the Washington Zoo. He is a red aukari, said to be the only one of his kind in North America. His coat is of silky red, and he has a short, bushy tail. Found in area north of Amazon. National Photo.

Maj. Henry Green, who has been ordered to take charge of work of arranging eight American fields of honor in France, England and Belgium, where the bodies of 40,000 American soldiers will rest. National Photo.

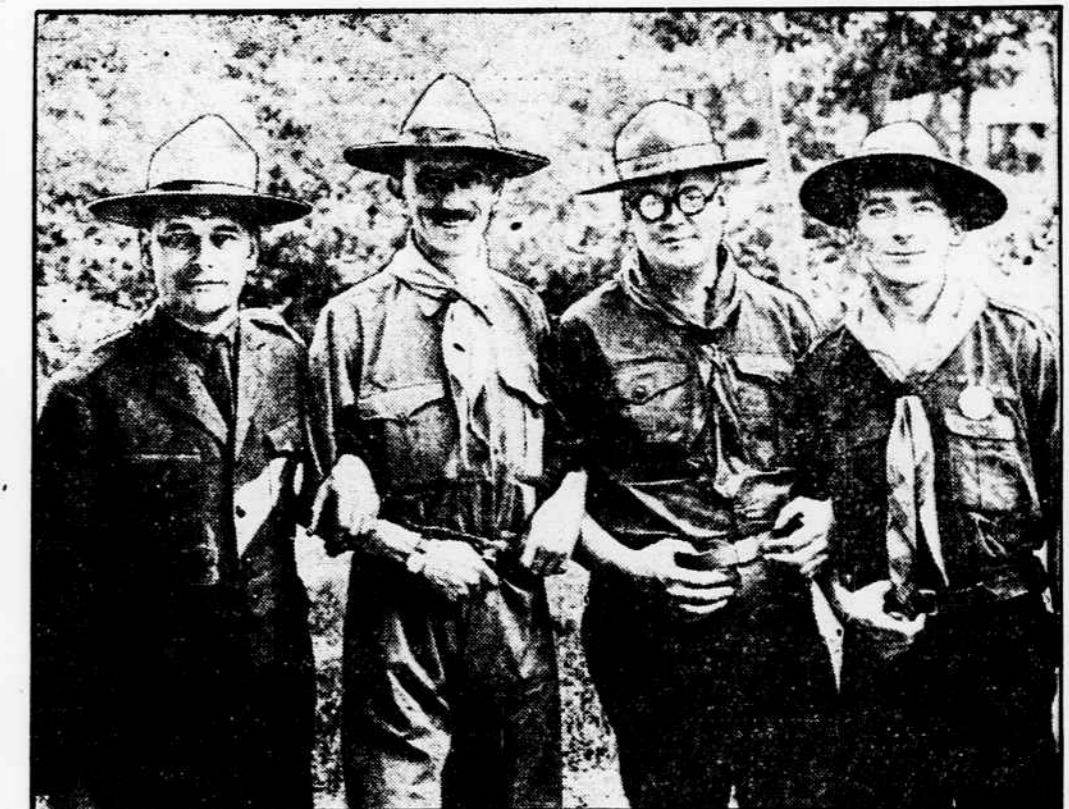

The Turkish cavalryman and his smile of victory. The advance of the Turkish nationalist army against the Greeks was conducted through cavalry charges, according to news reports, and is called "a great military exploit." Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Spanish women and children, survivors of steamship Hammonia sinking, on deck of Union Castle liner Kinfauns. The latter was the first boat to reach scene of the disaster when the Hammonia foundered in a gale off the Spanish coast. Thirty women and children were drowned. Wide World Photo.

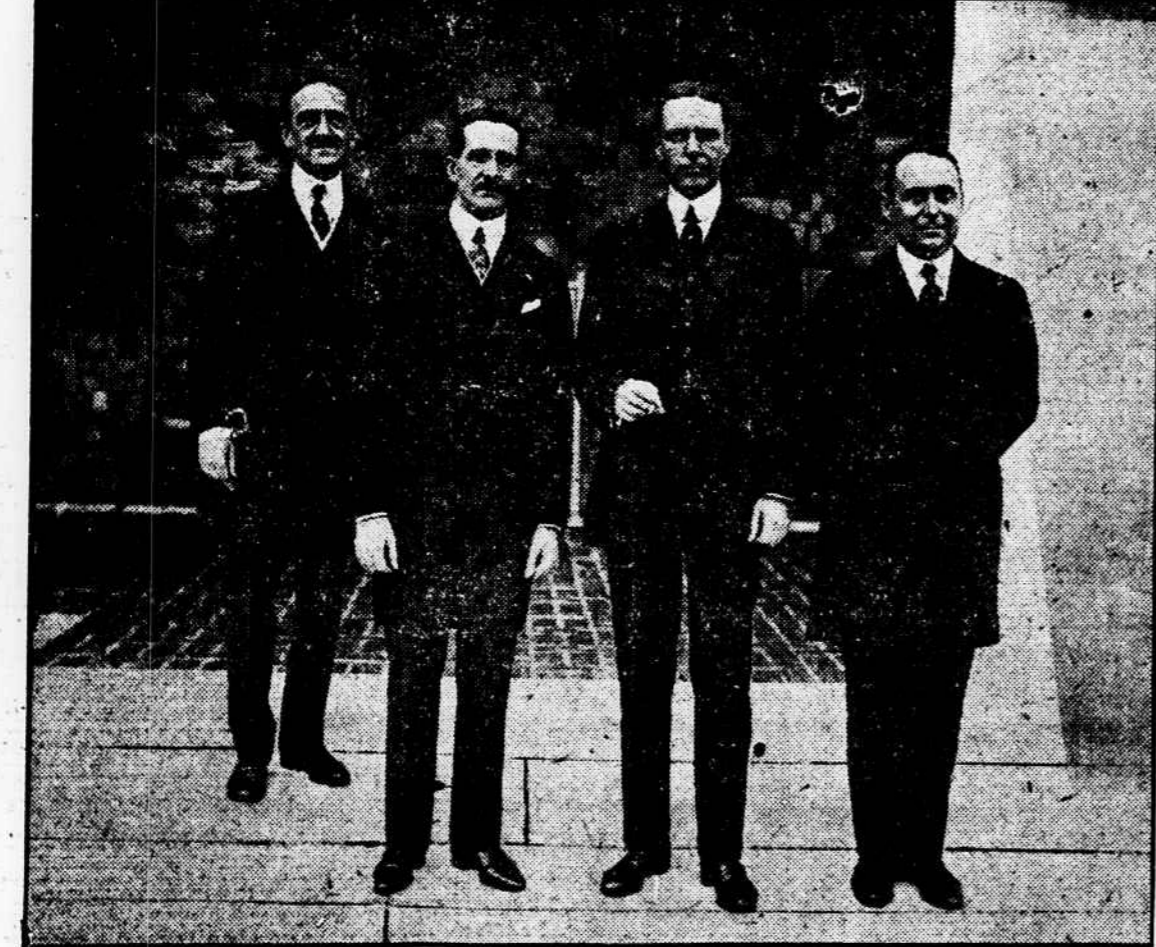

Doorn House, where the former emperor of Germany will wed Princess Herminie of Reuss. They will live in the house, located near Utrecht, Netherlands. The princess is the widow of Prince Jean Georges of Schoenach-Carolath and has five children. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

International Boy Scout representatives at executives' conference, Blue Ridge, N. C., this week. Left to right: John Stiles, Canada; Capt. Francis Gidney, England; James E. West, the United States, and M. J. Guerin-Desjardins, France. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Gertrude Atherton, novelist, advocates the teaching of United States Constitution in public schools. She also advances the idea of celebrating "Constitution day" on September 17 of each year. Copyright by Underwood & Underwood.

Guests of honor at luncheon given yesterday by Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American Union. Left to right: Ricardo Alfaro, newly appointed minister from Panama; J. E. Lefevre, the retiring minister; William Phillips, undersecretary of state; Dr. Rowe. National Photo.

Speaker Gillett and Senator Lodge call at the White House to talk over pending legislation with President Harding. Photo snapped when they were stopped by newspaper men at executive offices. National Photo.

Norman B. Beecher, admiralty counsel of the Shipping Board, who has been selected, with Judge Charles M. Hough, to represent the United States at International Conference on Maritime Law, in Brussels, October 17. National Photo.